FROM THE PASTOR

Dear Friends,

‘Do not be afraid.’ That’s what the disciples were told on that very first Easter morning. For those of us living so many years later, we know full well there are a number of things in the world that cause us great fear and trembling. From the horrifying war in Ukraine to concerns about Covid in our towns, sometimes it feels like the onslaught of painful things will never end. One of my favorite pastoral theologians, UCC minister Martin Copenhaver, writes:

As a pastor I spend a portion of my time in close proximity to death. In such regions, shadowed by fear and loss, I so much want to reach for words that are reassuring. In the end, I don’t have such words to offer, at least none of my own. I am not alone in this, of course. Neither do the doctors. In the end, ultimately doctors do not have the authority to say, ‘Do not be afraid.’ Doctors do not know the future. They do not have the antidote to uncertainty. They cannot accompany a patient down every road. None of us can.

This is the reality of our lives and yet it is also the hope of Easter. Copenhaver says that whenever we find ourselves in these moments of fear, that’s precisely when we need angels to arrive, in scripture and occasionally in our lives, to reassure us, ‘Do not be afraid.’ God often has this marvelous way of breaking into our lives and into human history, and often in ways that take us by surprise.

Copenhaver reminds us, “When the angel says, ‘Do not be afraid,’ or when Jesus says, ‘Fear not,’ it is not the assurance that nothing can go wrong, because often things do. It is not the assurance that everything will turn out for the best, because often it doesn’t. Rather, it is the assurance that, whatever may happen to us, whatever the day may hold, God has the power to strengthen us and uphold us; that whatever we must face, we will not face it alone; that nothing we encounter is stronger than God’s love; that ultimately God gets the last word in the end — and sometimes even before the end.”

This is the message of the Easter season, and this is the hope that helps usher in new life for us and for the world.

Peace,

Our Church Family

Music Appreciation Sunday

Sunday, May 15

Sunday, May 15th is Music Appreciation Sunday and is also the day of the Groton Road Race. We are going to have coffee and donuts before church, starting at 9:15. This pre-worship coffee hour gives people enough time to arrive, get parked, and get settled in for worship with no stress or troubles at all. We suggest arriving at church before 9:30 just to be sure. After worship, we will still have our regular coffee hour so folks can stay around for a few minutes while the roads are being opened back up.

Fellowship Hour - Can You Help?

The Kitchen Ministry has started having Fellowship Hour again after Worship. We would like to continue with Fellowship Hour, but we need volunteers to help with hosting. If you would like to help, please contact Jean Armstrong or Greg Balligan. We'd like to set up a schedule for at least two months to make sure we can keep it going once we start back up. If you haven't served before or would like a refresher, we can help you get familiar with the kitchen and making coffee, etc. We appreciate your help!

Upcoming Graduates!

Are you or someone in your family graduating this spring? We would like to honor our graduates in the June Courier. Please let us know who is graduating and from where, and any significant next steps in their lives. Please email your information to the Church Office (unioncc@uccgroton.org) as soon as possible so we can be sure to get your information in our newsletter! Thank you.
